INSTRUCTIONS

1. Use your fan brush to apply 2 coats of Safari to the outside of the mug.
2. While that is drying, cut out your cheetah patterns.
3. When the yellow is dry we can apply the cheetahs. Working one at a time, dip a paper cheetah in water and put it on the cup, smoothing out any air bubbles.
4. Repeat until your desired number of cheetahs are on the cup.
5. Paint one more layer of Safari on top of the paper patterns to make sure they're sealed down.
6. Once the yellow is dry, use your fan brush to apply 3 layers of Blue Green on top, covering the outside.
7. When the background is dry, but the cheetahs are still shiny, use a straight pin to remove the cheetahs.
8. Using the photo as a reference, apply the details to the cheetahs using a detail brush and Licorice paint. We just did one coat.
9. Finally, if desired, use your detail brush and Licorice paint to apply doodles on the background around the cheetahs. We did leaf shapes.

TIPS

- When you remove the paper patterns, don't pick at the edge with the pin. Instead, poke the paper about 1/4" from the edge and scoop upward to release it.
- Just one coat of paint is necessary on the doodles.
